It's time to

CHORUS: (It's time to)

Bb F
start the Organ Recital, ev'rybody got something to tell. There's an endless fascination with the parts of our bodies that are shot to Hell. Yeah, D7 Gm
C F
I can beat your story, and Fred heard about a guy who's worse. All the G7 C7
old folks get their turns to talk, it's a race to see who go first. You know,

VERSE 1: (You know)

Dm7 C7
Amy had a nagging leg pain that she ignore until it got too much. The Bb△ A7
doctor tole her she wait so long that she always gonna need a crutch. Judy's Dm7 C7
knee make so much noise that she can't sneak up in the dark. It go Bb△ C7
"snap crackle pop" whenever she move, that operation's gonna leave a mark. Oh, you

VERSE 2: (Oh, you)

Dm7 C7
wanna discuss scar tissue? I got a story that'll curl your hair. Should have been a Bb△ A7
simple operation but something go wrong, that scar grow everywhere. It impinge on the nerve, make things numb, she get clumsy and she fall on the floor. Trip on the Bb△ C7
Dm7 C7
bathroom safety feature, break her hip and can't walk no more. We love to

CHORUS: (We love to)

Bb F
 start the Organ Recital, ev'rybody got something to share. There's an endless fascination with the parts of our bodies in disrepair. Yeah, D7 Gm
C F
 I can beat your story, and Joe wants to discuss his heart. All the G7 C7
 old folks get their turns to talk, but they race to see who starts. Michael

VERSE 3: (Michael)

Dm7 C7
 almost pass out this morning, thought he had a stroke. Turn out that he BbΔ A7
 take too many of the white pills, and didn't take the red one that make him choke.
Dm7 C7
 Tom hasn't crapped all week, thinks an obstruction must have clogged his gut. John Mark BbΔ C7
 offered to give him an enema, but then John has that thing for butts. You can

VERSE 4: (You can)

Dm7 C7
 live without your gall bladder. You can lose one kidney if the other one's good. You can BbΔ A7
 live without reproductive organs, your spleen and a whole lot of blood. You can Dm7 C7
 live without one lung, your bladder, your stomach and your colon, too. You can BbΔ C7
 lose six ribs and your fibula bones, and a bunch of your lymph nodes, too.

INSTRUMENTAL:

 We all

VERSE 5: (We all)

Dm7 C7
 headed for the same conclusion, by a whole lotta different ways. Some body BbΔ A7
 parts last longer than others, but everyone ends their days. Don't Dm7 C7
 need to hear the details, just enjoy the next thing you do. There's more to BbΔ C7
 life than being sick. I'm sorry you hurt, but I think we all do. Please don't
